WITH CONFIDENCE IN THE FUTURE, MJC COMPANIES PRESENT LABADIE PARK NEIGHBORHOOD COMMUNITY

June 18, 2012- Wyandotte, MI. Located on St. John, close to Biddle Ave, a new community has been constructed by MJC Companies. Anthony LoDuca, Associate Builder/Project Manager, announced, “With deep roots in an array of communities in Macomb, Oakland, Wayne and Washtenaw counties, MJC Companies is proud to be a part of Wyandotte’s rich history and is confident in the future of the economy and dedicated to the families who live here.”

The group is extremely proud of the construction being able to offer geothermal in their NEZ (Neighborhood Enterprise Zone) along with equal opportunity housing. While it may appear less expensive to buy a used home; in reality, buyers need to consider how much more it will cost for utilities and maintenance over the long haul. In addition to a warranty and freedom from replacement costs that plague existing homes, new construction provides the ability to take advantage of technological advances in construction and energy efficiency.

As part of their home package, MJC hired a leader in the energy sealing services industry, to offer an array of high performance elements that greatly exceed Michigan’s energy code. Labadie Park homes offer units that come standard with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Energy Star Plus certification. LoDuca indicated, “These are homes that offer energy efficient features, quality and performance to help prevent greenhouse gas emissions and save the buyer thousands of dollars.”
